Committee charge. The committee is authorized to review water issues and propose legislation related to the conservation, use, development, and financing of Colorado's water resources. In conducting its review, the committee is required to consult with experts in the field of water conservation, quality, use, finance, and development.

Tours and meetings. The committee is authorized to meet up to six times during even-numbered years and to take up to two field trips.² The committee attended the Colorado Foundation for Water Education tour of south metro water facilities on June 14 and 15. It has also scheduled the following meetings:

- August 14 — Steamboat Springs;
- August 15 and 16 — Colorado Water Congress summer convention in Steamboat Springs;
- September 6 and 7 — State Capitol Building; and
- September 27 — State Capitol Building.

Committee Recommendations to Legislative Council

Bill limits. Each bill recommended by the committee must be approved by a two-thirds vote of the members of the committee, or at least seven members. The committee is limited to recommending three bills to the Legislative Council, unless two-thirds of the members of the Water Resources Review Committee vote to recommend a greater number.³ The Joint Rules of the House and Senate limit the total number of bills that may be recommended by any committee to eight unless the Executive Committee of the Legislative Council approves a greater number.⁴

Legislative Council review. In even-numbered years, the Legislative Council must review interim committee recommendations by October 15. Bills approved by the Legislative Council do not count against a member's five bill limit for the regular legislative session.⁵ Bills not approved by Legislative Council may be introduced in the regular session, but such bills will count against a member's five bill limit. Interim committee bills must have prime sponsors prior to consideration by the Legislative Council.⁶

Requirements for bill drafts. The Executive Committee of Legislative Council's guidelines for interim committees require that at least a majority of the committee membership approve a bill in concept prior to requesting a bill draft. Requests must also be made at least three weeks before the final meeting to allow sufficient time for drafting and final consideration by the committee. Legislative Council is scheduled to meet on October 15, 2012 to consider interim committee recommendations. Consequently, bills must be approved by the Water Resources Review Committee by October 1, 2012, and requests for draft bills must be made by September 10, 2012.
